

e

4

क्ष

1903

e

e

N

1903

S

Handwritten scribbles and marks in white and red ink are scattered across the page, particularly in the bottom corners and along the left and right edges. These marks appear to be corrections or annotations related to the text and the central illustration.